ALLEGED "BADGER" CHIEF GETS TEN-YEAR TERM

First Defendant, Lester E. Brown, Guilty of Highway Robbery.

TWO OTHERS ARE INDICTED
Brown's wife and Lonnie Moring, Young Petersburg Man, Charged With Participation in Holdup of Kountes, Hotel Man.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
PETERSBURG, VA., Nov. 4.—Lester E. Brown, alias P. H. Gower, was sentenced by a jury in Hastings Court here today to serve ten years in the State Penitentiary for securing $300 from James Kountes under threats of death.

PETERSBURG, VA., Nov. 4.—The trial of Lester E. Brown, alias Gower, who, along with his wife and Lonnie Moring, a young white man of this city, is charged with working the "badger game" on James Kountes, a local hotel man, several weeks ago, began in the Hastings Court here today on the specific charge of highway robbery.

Brown is represented by Attorney Gilliam, and a stiff fight is being made for his acquittal, although the State sprang a surprise this afternoon by introducing as evidence two letters alleged to have been written to the Brown couple after their flight from this city warning them that the police were after them.

Mrs. Brown did not testify at the trial of her husband. She will go on trial later on the same charge, she having been the decoy in the game, it is alleged. Moring, it is charged, aided Brown in holding up Kountes and the woman and threatening to kill him if he did not give them $300. Kountes, guarded by Brown, it is alleged, came to a local bank and, while the man held a gun on him, he took from his pocket, drew the money from the bank and surrendered it.

The Browns were apprehended in Youngstown, Ohio, after a chase of more than a week, which led through several States. It was upon the statement made to the police by the Browns that Moring, who denies the charge, was arrested in this city.

TWO MEN SENT ON FOR U. S. COURT ACTION

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
STAUNTON, VA., Nov. 4.—As a result of the raid of a still near Harrison yesterday morning J. H. Cook and W. H. Jenkins, arrested at that time, appeared before United States Commissioner William A. Pratt today, the hearing resulting in their being held for the Federal grand jury, which meets in Harrisonburg, November 23, in connection with the full term of the United States Court for the Western District of Virginia.

Testimony of two Federal prohibition agents was that they found the still in operation with Cook and Jenkins in attendance. They destroyed it and also about 150 gallons of mash contained in twenty-one barrels. Russell Claytor, age 15, who was at the still when the raid was made, was held in view of lack of evidence to couple him with its operation, and on account of his youth, Cook and Jenkins did not testify. They are out on $500 bond, each.

CRIPPLES ARE COMING FOR GRAHAM'S HEALING TOUCH

Ten Little Invalids From Wythe to Receive Free Treatment.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
WYTHEVILLE, VA., Nov. 4.—Nature's prolific waste of life, pictured sensationally by Jack London, is not being taken for granted by Dr. William Tate Graham, orthopaedic specialist, and by Miss Foxworth Stone, American Red Cross School Nurse for Wythe County. Proof: Ten crippled children left here Friday morning for free treatment in the Dooley Hospital at Richmond.

These children are some of the forty-one cripples examined by Dr. Graham at the free clinics held at the Wythe County Courthouse. Others will be given the same treatment later.

"Blessing, not Burden" is the motto Dr. Graham and his assistants are writing into the lives of children who had been cast into the discard in all sections of the State. Co-operating with doctor and nurse, the Norfolk and Western Railway will carry the patients to Richmond without charge.

Arrangements for the previous free clinics were made by Miss Stone, who has also made the arrangements for the trip to Richmond. Several of the patients have never been out of the county, and are contemplating the trip as an adventure as well as a cure.

Mrs. Robert Sayers will accompany Miss Stone with the patients.

CLIFTON FORGE WOMAN HEADS AUXILIARY BODY

Mrs. H. B. Gross Elected President of Baptist Woman's Missionary Union.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
PETERSBURG, VA., Nov. 4.—Mrs. H. B. Gross, of Clifton Forge, will head the Baptist Woman's Missionary Union, Virginia, for the coming year, she having been elected today at the closing session of the three-day convention in this city.

The election of Mrs. Gross came as a surprise to many of the delegates, the re-election of Mrs. John P. Vines having been believed by many to be a certainty and a change of officers being looked for. The report of the nominating committee, leaving the names of Mrs. Gross and Mrs. Vines, caused a flurry of excitement and much discussion ensued. The voting was spirited, the Clifton Forge woman winning out by a small margin.

Mrs. Gross has recently returned to the State to reside, but she is said by those who know her that she will make an excellent officer.

Dr. Love was the principal speaker at the evening session today. Dr. Love, who is secretary of the Foreign Mission Board, paid a high compliment to the women of the South, especially Virginia, for the manner in which they responded to pleas for missions.

The convention closed today after one of the largest and most successful meetings ever held by the organization. Over 500 delegates were present at the sessions, many of them being among the most prominent women in the State.

Mrs. John P. Vines, president of the organization, presided at all the meetings, which were held in the Second Baptist Church, where everything was done to insure the comfort of the visitors, even to the establishment of a temporary post-office.
